

Going green now means having a positive impact on both the environment and your bottom line

Coatings Solutions was founded to provide a way for industry and infrastructure to embrace future energy savings and maintenance challenges with environmentally sound measures, in an effective and practical way.

Coatings Solutions is an authorized distributor and applicator for Superior Products International (SPI).

SPI's products offer top of the market performance, all designed to help you to hold costs under control, maintenance on schedule, and keep things running smoothly, far into the future.

For the industrial or commercial client, we offer an array of SPI products that will help save energy, have a long service life, reduce future maintenance costs, preserve equipment and structures, encapsulate harmful compounds, and increase operating efficiency.

Coatings Solutions excels in bringing the most cost effective results, even when our customers are faced with the toughest situations that environment or conditions can present.

As an SPI distributor, Coatings Solutions offers the only complete line of industrial coatings products with the certifications, technology and quality to keep your bottom line protected for now and far into the future.
